As the month of Septemout on a Thursday, it so happens that it has in it five Wednesdays and five Thursdays. If the instruction of the Department for August and the practice of the United States Assistant Treasurer are followed for September, the purchase of bonds will be twelve millions of dollars instead of ten milions, and the sales of gold three millions of dollars instead of two millions This announcement has had the effect to strengthen the prices of bonds, esecially as it is thought to indicate the intention of the Secretary to pursue the same policy till the meeting of Con-

The opinion prevails in some of the European houses in New York that some, if not most of the markets on the other side are overstocked, for the moment, with United States 5-20s, while t present the New York market, unaided by the return of bonds owned or held on speculation abroad, could not supply $12,000,000 to the sinking fund cing the price. It is reasonable to conclude therefore that a return of bonds rom foreign markets sufficient to keep prices steady will take place. Genera satisfaction is expressed in New York with the steady course of Secretary Soutwell in paying off, by purchase, the Public Debt, reducing to the lowest working point his currency balances, and indicating the extent of his sales of gold for the month of September. These

Treasury notes:

No clearly distinctive difference between the genuine and the counterfeit has been made public yet, that we have seen. Some few points have been alluded to, but in practical operation they were found to be unreliable. The Treasury Department has also published largely magnified photographs of the two notes, but with the exception that one is the photograph of a new and smooth note, and the other of a worn and rumpled bill, they are as alike as two peas. There is, however, a clear and distinctive difference easily discovered by every one at all conversant with paper money, between these same genuine and counterfeit bills, and one, too, that the manufacturers cannot alter to avoid detection. one, too, that the manufacturers can not alter to avoid detection, even afte not after to avoid detection, even after its pointed out. It is in the color of the red ink in which the numbers on the face of the notes are printed. In every comparison in which we have instituted or seen instituted the counterfeit is detected at once. The red color on the genuine note is clear and bright, the manufacture of the link, we are informed, being a secret and made of expensive material; while the color of the number printed on the counterfeit is dull, and of a brownish shade. Any one putting the two notes side by side need not be deceived then or thereafter.

SHERP—Sheep were dull, and, as compared with last week, prices were a little week. Common grades of sheep were dull, and sellers had to accept low prices, while prime fast sheep and lambs were sold readily at full rates. The range in prices was from $1 to $150 per head, as to quality.

Hous—It is yet too early in the season to expect nuch activity in the hog market. While vegetables are plenty and relatively oheap, people will not consume much meat, especially pork, aume much meat, especially pork, which is the dearest and most unhealthy of all descriptions of animal food. There were sales of fat hogs, in a retail way, at 10/2411/26. Stockers were in fair demand, and sold at 9/24102.

TOMY OLD BOOT. Mine ancient pedal friend, a long farewell!
So many days we've footestal together—
The lancetiffe—in lart and stormy weather
Mine eyes well night their lid dikes overswell,
I well remember when thou didst encase
My nether limbs with pressure warm and I well remember when thou didst encase
My nether limbs with pressure warm and tight;
And many a corny twinge from morn till night, Evinced the ardency of thy embrace. Soon. like the love of tome long married wite, Thy grasp, if not so strong, was still as true,

And pleasanter; and as we grow in life,
Thou work as pleasant as a pillant since;
And while on thee i trampled overy day,
To saild me thou didst wear thy very soul away.

Though I dispise the stander-monger's art,
And scorn the wrotch who blackens thy fair farms
Of one whose richest fortune is the name (The wraten whose steel goes deeper than the heatt).

the heart), Yet it has been my daily wont, I own, To black thy race until the skin has snone With ebon glow, as lust rous as the hue That forms the charm of duties,'s native But 'twas not that I hated thee, indeed; prized thee so, that when thy sole bros thro'
And let in water, 'twas my special heed
A man of awis thy gaping wounds should sew, And twitching pangs athwart my pocke shoot To part with thee at last, O worn and faithful boot. PROLIFIC .- Mr. P. T. Smith, of this county, has three ewes which the other day gave birth. to their second set of lambs this year. Their first lambs were born in February of the present year, and the second a few days ago, Remarkable as this may appear, it is a fact, for the circumstances are known o many of the most reliable me to many of the most relative men of the county. Such an occurrence he not been heard of for many yeas. The lambs are living, and both they an their dams are perfectly healthy. Weston Democrat. western.
